ABSINTHE

£12

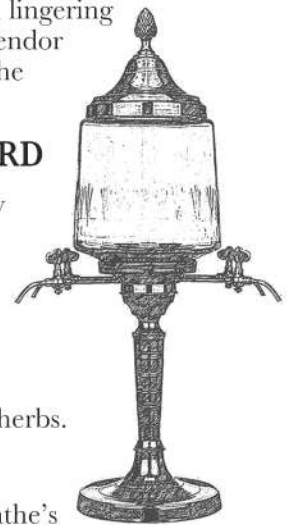

We like to drink our absinthe the right way. We serve your absinthe with a traditional 19th century style absinthe fountain that allows just the right level of dilution with ice cold filtered water and an optional sugar cube. Good drinks take time, but a little patience allows the fullest flavour and aromatic character to be obtained from the illustrious green fairy.

JADE 1901 68%

The recipe for Jade 1901 was reverse engineered from sealed antique bottles. A classic vintage-style absinthe, balanced and crisp, with a stimulating herbal aroma and a smooth, lingering aftertaste that recalls the splendor of the Parisian cafés during the Belle Epoque.

JADE ESPRIT EDOUARD

The first product released by pre-ban absinthe fans Jade, reverse engineered from vintage bottles. Delicately coloured and flavoured, an authentic taste of history. This verte absinthe offers up hints of sweetness and fresh herbs.

JADE NOUVELLE

This 19th century style absinthe's heritage is deeply rooted in the original absinthes that made the sazerac cocktail and absinthe frappé famous. Vintage yet slightly avant garde structured palate with mildly bitter floral notes and a lingering bittersweet finish.

JADE VS 1898 65%

A Verte Suisse absinthe based on a recipe that was distilled by CF Berge in the 19th century prior to the Absinthe ban. This is a full-bodied spirit distilled by Jade. Aromatic with notes of fresh flowers, aniseed, fennel fronds and spice on the nose. On the palate we find spice and herbs, fennel, anise and hints of wormwood. Long, herbal finish.

TERMINUS OXYGENÉE ABSINTHE

Meaning "stubborn" - as producers Combiér insisted that fennel was included despite government restrictions. Using grand wormwood from the Loire Valle by the distillery, fennel from Provence and green anise from Spain to give a very refreshing and bright absinthe.
